Castro Tells Roman Catholics He Follows Christ's Teaching

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro today rejected criticism of his government by the Roman Catholic Church, asserting that those who condemned his revolution "would be capable of crucifying Christ himself again because Christ preached what we are doing."

In a boiling rage, the bearded Prime Minister charged that traitorous clergymen directed by the U.S. Embassy were provoking his revolution with church demonstrations. He also accused the United States of getting Spanish Generalissimo Franco to pressure Spanish priests in Cuba into attacking his regime.

Shouting, waving his arms and giving seeming proof of his announcement that he has completely recovered his health, Castro spoke for 3½ hours to a post-midnight labor rally that roared approval of his attacks on the church with shouts in Spanish of "out!" and "to the execution wall!"

It was Castro's first public appearance since Cuba's Catholic hierarchy in a pastoral letter Sunday warned that communism is advancing in Cuba. The revolutionary leader was as angry as he has ever been in public.

"He who condemns a revolution like this one betrays Christ," Castro rasped. "They are not only traitors to Christ but to their people and to the fatherland."

"There is no doubt that the American Embassy has thrown into the battle its final pawns," he declared. "There is no doubt that the imperialistic partner of (Spanish Generalissimo) Franco and his fascism has influenced

Another Try Readied To Grab Capsule

VANDERBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — America's newest satellite is flashing around the earth every 94 minutes — awaiting the radio signal to hurl a 300-pound capsule toward Hawaii.

Discoverer XIII was launched at this West Coast missile facility Wednesday through a fog bank into a perfect polar orbit. On the satellite's 17th trip across the top of the world late this afternoon, a radio signal is set to trigger an operation the Air Force has tried six times without success. Recovery of a capsule of instruments from a vehicle in orbit.

Recovering a capsule is a key step to the puzzle of how to send man safely on a roundtrip visit to the inky void of space. Space scientists hope Discoverer XIII is their lucky number. If the capsule is recovered safely, monkeys — and eventually men — will follow, they say.

Here is how scientists plan to retrieve the capsule: Forward-firing rockets will slow the speed of the capsule so it falls toward the earth in a long, curving trajectory. When it hits the air, parachutes will check its fall. Planes trailing trapeze-like nets will try to catch the falling capsule, and ships will wait below in case they miss.

Francisco so that Franco can mobilize against our countrymen as many fascist priests as they can count on in our country."

He issued veiled warning that his government would retaliate if the church does not halt its criticism.

Castro attacked the "scribes and pharisees who did not raise a voice to protest against the crimes of (Dictator Fulgencio) Batista, the scribes who were photographed with the tyrant — baptizing the children of the tyrant."

(Some of the church's highest ranking prelates baptized Batista's children, but at least one leading Catholic prelate, the Most Rev. Enrique Perez Serantes, archbishop of Santiago, once intervened to save Castro's life from a Batista firing squad.)

Soviet Boots U.S. Tourist For Spying

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union told the U. S. Embassy today that an American tourist identified only as Robert Christner has been expelled from the Soviet Union as a spy.

The embassy said it knew nothing about Christner and first heard of him in the note delivered from the Soviet Foreign Ministry this morning.

The note charged he had been sent to the Soviet Union in July to collect industrial and military intelligence. The note did not say when the expulsion took place. Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said the Foreign Ministry had warned the embassy against "exploiting tourists for intelligence purposes."

It was the fifth case of American spying charged by the Soviets since the downing of Francis Gary Powers' U2 plane May 1 and the second expulsion of an American citizen to be announced in as many days.

Col. Edwin M. Kirtan, the U.S. Air Attache in Moscow, was ordered to leave the Soviet Union Wednesday. He was accused of organizing a spy apparatus and of photographing military installations. His assistant, Cpt. Irving T. McDonald Jr. of Provincetown, Mass., was accused of similar activities but was not ordered out of the country. U. S. Charge D'Affaires Edward L. Freers rejected the charges.

Unidentified Tot Mourned by Town

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — A community that knew her only in death sorrowfully buried an unidentified little girl Wednesday.

In a voice choked with emotion, Dr. Charles Franklin Parker of the Congregational Church told more than 70 Prescott residents attending the service: "Somewhere, someone is watching to learn what happened to a little girl left on the desert. If there has been a misdeed, probably a disquieted conscience will go on and on."

The tot was found half buried in the Arizona Desert south of Prescott July 31. She is believed to have been between 6 and 8 years old, but her identity and cause of death remain a mystery.

Carrier, Can Collide

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The carrier Bennington and the destroyer Edwards collided Wednesday during refueling operations 175 miles off the California coast. A Navy spokesman said there were no injuries.

U.N. Official Rushes Back To Congo Area

Hammarhjold To Lead Swedish Troops into Disputed Province

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Secretary General Dag Hammarhjold raced to the Congo today to personally lead a U.N. task force of Swedish troops into secessionist Katanga Province.

The secretary general had assurance from Katanga's chief of state, Moise Tshombe, that his force of 300 soldiers and two generals would be "received in an orderly manner" when they come Friday.

Tshombe dropped his threat to wage war on U.N. troops entering Katanga to replace Belgian forces after the U.N. Security Council pledged they would be used only for police duties and keep hands off his row with the central Congo government of Premier Patrice Lumumba. The Katanga premier tried to put conditions on the U.N. action but Hammarhjold rejected these and Tshombe acceded.

Hammarhjold's mission is to speed the withdrawal of the 7,500 Belgian troops who are now patrolling the mineral-rich province. The Belgians said they would remove their soldiers when they could be sure the U.N. forces could protect the 12,000 Belgian civilians still in Katanga.

The secretary general took off for Leopoldville at 12:55 a.m. in a special Boeing 707 jet put at his disposal by President Eisenhower when commercial transport was not readily available. Refueling stops were scheduled in the Azores and at Accra, Ghana, and the plane was due in Leopoldville tonight.

Meanwhile, Lumumba appealed for national unity in the wake of antigovernment rioting in Leopoldville.

"Let us stop the quarrels; let us abandon the destructive spirit," Lumumba said in a radio appeal repeatedly broadcast by the national network.

"All disorder must stop," Lumumba said. "Let us preserve our independence. The whole world is watching us."

As Lumumba's appeal in French and the local Lingala dialect was broadcast, steel-helmeted Congolese police marched in close formation through the sprawling native city.

They held rifles and tommy-guns at the ready while long billy-clubs dangled on their hips.

Congolese soldiers barred access to the Abako office where Wednesday night's rioting flared up. Around the Place De La Victoire, in the heart of the quarter, crowds of silent Congolese tensely watched the marching police and trucks loaded with soldiers.

During the rioting Wednesday rocks were thrown at the young premier's car, but he was not hurt. Some Congolese policemen said a stone narrowly missed him.

The government announced that a number of the rioters have been arrested and served notice that other arrests would be made.

4 Persons Slain By Gunman in Washington Home

PASCO, Wash. (AP) — Four persons were shot to death early today in a home. The gunman fled in a car.

Police identified the four victims, all shot in the head, as Truman H. Brown, Celeste Dixon, Israel M. Fowler and Robbie Jean Harris. They were residents of Pasco. Their ages were not given. Brown was white, the others Negroes.

The shootings took place in a bedroom of the home of Mrs. Harris.

Police said Mrs. Harris' young son was awakened by the noise and saw a man run from the house, jump in a car and speed off. Then he found the bodies.

The boy got the telephone operator, who rang the police station for him. The boy told officers the man he saw run was white.

HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, N.M. (AP) — Air Force Capt. Joe Kittinger will make another high altitude jump Aug. 16 from an undisclosed height. On Dec. 11, he made a jump from 74,700 feet.

Khrush May Carry His Propaganda Before U.N. Assembly Personally

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. authorities believe Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is strongly tempted to carry his violent propaganda campaign against the United States personally into the U. N. General Assembly.

Khrushchev said this week he would consider it "a great honor" to attend the meeting opening in New York next month, and to discuss disarmament proposals. But he has not said yet he will attend.

One reason for his hesitation may be his apparent failure so far to obtain invitations from Latin-American countries other than Cuba to make personal visits to them.

The belief here is that Khrushchev would like to combine a flying trip to the U.N. with a grand tour of as many U.S. neighbor nations as would welcome him.

But Central and South American governments, concerned over expanding Soviet ties with Cuba and Khrushchev's hostility to the

Laos Rebels Report Coup Is Success

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The military rebels who seized power in Laos announced in a delayed communique received in Saigon today that "the goal of the coup de force has been attained."

"The population has approved the movement and remained calm throughout the entire country," said the communique signed by paratrooper Capt. Kong Le, the leader of the revolt.

The rebels said "all officers of various services and units of the armed forces" declared themselves ready to serve the country, religion, monarchy and constitution and cooperate with the revolutionary movement.

The rebels' 40-member executive committee will govern "on a temporary basis," the communique said adding that the rebellion "was not promoted by any political group or party but rather to fulfill the people's desire."

"The movement has received no material or moral help from any foreign power whatsoever but was created thanks to the spirit of sacrifice of the committee itself," it said.

The rebel claim that all army officers were cooperating was contradicted by reports that high ranking officers were still loyal to the government of Premier Tiao Samsonth and by an unconfirmed report that the minister of defense, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, was planning to mount a resistance movement against the rebels.

Strike Closes Fostoria Paper

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP) — The International Typographers Union went on strike today at the Fostoria Review Times.

Robert Ameln, ITU international representative said members of Local 260 voted to strike Wednesday night after a breakdown in negotiations for a new contract. It would suspend publication after today's issue and until the dispute is settled. The final issue was put together by a skeleton crew.

The newspaper's 12-man mechanical staff including printers, stereotypers and pressmen observed the ITU picket line.

The Review Times, expired June 24.

Ohio Parolee Gives Up in Texas

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Robert E. Hamilton, a 37-year-old bottling company employee, called police and told them he wanted to turn himself in as an Ohio parole violator Wednesday. He did not tell police his name, but they traced the call and took Hamilton into custody.

Hamilton was released on parole from Ohio Penitentiary after serving four years of a 20-year sentence for theft. He said he jumped parole in 1955, got married and came to Texas. The Hamiltons now have four children.

Hamilton said, "I just gave myself in because I was afraid my kids would grow up and not know me and maybe would not want to know me."

United States, have been cold to his show of interest.

The reportedly widespread concern in other American capitals about Cuba's swing toward communism is expected to help the U.S. effort at a foreign ministers meeting in San Jose, Costa Rica, next week to rally support for pressures against Soviet intervention in the Cuban situation.

Guards Prep For Training

Camp Grayling Site For Two-Week Stay

Circleville's 2nd Rifle and Weapons Platoon of Company A, 166th Infantry Regiment, Ohio National Guard, will leave here Saturday for two weeks of summer training at Camp Grayling, Michigan.

All personnel of the local unit have been ordered to report at the armory on E. Franklin St. midnight Friday for travel preparations. The guardsmen will depart here at 6:45 a. m. Saturday. The training period will last from Saturday until August 28.

The local platoon is part of Company A which also has platoons in Columbus. Last year the unit participated in field training at Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

CAMP Grayling is in Crawford County in the northern part of Michigan's lower peninsula. The camp site is located on Lake Margrethe.

The Circleville platoon will join other units of the 166th for comprehensive study of all phases of army training. The period will include firing of weapons, field problems and a coverage of general subjects. Company A currently has 150 enlisted men and five officers. M-Sgt. Chester Iery is the local unit administrator and field first sergeant.

New Yorker Mystified By Ambush

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP) — Wiley Oglesby, 40, is a law-abiding family man. His workday existence differs little from that of millions of other Americans. Yet someone has shot him from ambush twice in the last three months.

He doesn't know why. But this is what has happened to him in this quiet Long Island suburb.

On May 17, he was completing some do-it-yourself repairs on his car at a service station. A shot rang out and a bullet fragment entered his head. He was hospitalized five days.

Last Thursday night, he again was at the service station. Again he had just completed some repairs when a shot rang out. This time he was hit in the shoulder. The wound was not serious, and Oglesby is recovering satisfactorily.

"I'm scared," Oglesby said as he discussed the shootings. "I haven't got an enemy in the world that I know of."

There have been no threats to his wife or five children, to the attendants at the Tungsten Corp. plant where he has a steady job.

Police are investigating but are baffled. They can't guard Oglesby against all possible shooting attempts.

So Oglesby goes on living, and looking over his shoulder.

$30½ Million Fund Is Divided by State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes today reported the largest single distribution of local government money ever made by the state. It totaled more than 30½ million dollars.

The money went to county treasurers for distribution by county budget commissions.

More than 28½ million dollars of the money came from the state intangible tax levied upon financial institutions and dealers in securities. The balance came from the regular monthly distribution of sales tax money to the local government fund.

Monday for San Jose. Among his advisers he will take Charles E. Bohlen, the government's top expert on Soviet communism and its international operations.

Herter arranged to give the Senate Foreign Relations Committee a preview of the San Jose meeting today at a closed session. His appearance also provided an opportunity for him to discuss U.S. handling of the Cuban crisis, the situation in the Congo and

Junior Crime School Smashed In Brooklyn Mobster Haunts

NEW YORK (AP) — A "Junior Apalachin" crime school directed by top mobsters and operating from the haunts of the old Murder Inc. gang has been smashed by Brooklyn police.

At least one teenager was slain in gangland style by the youthful syndicate as an object lesson to informers, detectives say.

Police swooped down on homes in Brooklyn and Queens in pre-dawn raids Wednesday. They arrested 22 persons accused of belonging to the crime-school gang and charged them with a series of burglaries that netted a half-million dollars over a two-year period.

Student sin the "school" took lessons from established mobsters in murder as well as theft, police said.

Deputy Chief Inspector Raymond V. Martin added: "This was a Junior Apalachin group, being groomed for future activities in the crime syndicate."

He said the investigations continuing and should turn up "some very big names in the following weeks."

The reference to "Apalachin" recalled the gangland meeting in Apalachin, N. Y., on Nov. 14, 1957. Of the 50-odd men attending the meeting, 20 were found guilty in federal court of conspiracy to obstruct justice in not divulging why they were at the conference.

Murder Inc., a murder-for-profit mob with headquarters in Brooklyn, was smashed almost 20 years ago.

The crime school gang was uncovered during the investigation of the gangland murder of a 17-year-old Brooklyn boy June 3.

The victim, Vincent Graffeo, was thrown from a car, beaten and shot five times. His body was found in a gutter in the Bath Beach section Brooklyn, where the old Murder Inc. mob operated. The area has been the scene of many gangland-style slayings.

Police believed that Graffeo had roused the suspicions of other members of the gang who were afraid he would talk. He was slain only a few hours before he was to go into court on a charge of possessing burglary tools.

The Poles were named as Capt. Edward Gordon of the military attaché's office in the Polish Embassy, and Roman Miazial, a clerk.

There was nothing illegal about the six Communist bloc men's three busy days—they were registered at the convention and had the credentials available to military attachés.

Neither was the data they crammed into bulging briefcases classified.

But an Army spokesman said seven items of defense hardware disclosed at the convention never before had been seen by the general public.

These included a T14 tracked reconnaissance vehicle planned to replace the armored car or the light tank; a new configuration of the Nike-Zeus missile; in artist's conception of the Army's new Mauler, a mobile automatic air defense firing system with electronic computer; an SD5 drone a typical warhead of about 200 m.m.; a "Red Eye" hand-carried antipersonnel weapon, and a working model of a Sadacomputer.

Columbus Suffers Deluge, Troubles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A storm which dropped up to 1.7 inches of rain on Columbus Wednesday night caused considerable trouble.

Several cars were covered with water when underpasses quickly flooded up, a rain-caused short circuit in an air raid siren in suburban Bexley prompted a myriad of calls to the fire department, and a flaming truck-car collision occurred on the Olentangy River Road.

One person was being treated for a skull fracture, internal injuries and lacerations. He was Melvin Ross, 29, of Columbus. Police cited him with traveling left of center, said his car crossed the center line on the river road and collided with a semi-trailer truck driven by James White, 44, of Circleville, who was not injured. The truck burst into flames.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers arrived at the airport in a private limousine. They and the doctor were accompanied by Col. W. Cury, a friend of the family.

Dem Nominee Seeks Boost In Minimum

Senate Session Sees Candidate Step Back In Political Spotlight

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential candidate, stood today in the political glare of the current congressional session.

Since the session began Monday, Kennedy and the Republican candidate, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, have kept in the shadows, letting others catch the spotlight.

But Kennedy pushed forward Wednesday night, fighting for a minimum wage bill.

He said he'll try to convince the Senate to pass his bill without major change. It would increase the minimum wage to $1.25 and extend coverage to five million more workers.

In the debate Wednesday night, Kennedy said the Eisenhower administration had opposed any increase in the $1.00 minimum wage and then reluctantly agreed to accept a boost to $1.15.

"They were dragged to it," Kennedy said, and added that his remark also applied to the administration's stand on medical care for the aged, federal aid to education, housing, and area redevelopment.

But Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said: "I don't think the President was dragged or pushed into this at all."

The administration had opposed an increase in the minimum wage last year, Goldwater said, because "it honestly believed it would be inflationary."

Goldwater, opposing Kennedy's bill, said it would increase unemployment by half a million in three to four months.

"By artificially increasing wages, we're going to see additional unemployment," Goldwater told the Senate in opening an attack on the measure.

The bill would boost the present $1 hourly minimum wage to $1.25 by 1963 in a series of three steps, and also would extend coverage of the wages and hours law to five million more workers.

"This is a question of economics, not of politics," Goldwater said. "I admit this proposal has great voter appeal, but does it have economic sense?"

Until now, Kennedy has kept hands off to let his runningmate, Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas manage the Democratic show in the Senate.

Nixon's position is complicated by the fact that Eisenhower has been used to being the boss for 7½ years.

The President made it clear at his news conference Wednesday that he intends to continue to be his own man until his term ends next January.

He said, among other things, that while Nixon will be consulted, he alone will make the final decision on which bills passed by Congress to accept and which to veto.

Although the vice president was instrumental in getting the Republican convention to adopt a platform plank calling for an acceleration of the administration's defense program, Eisenhower said Nixon had never made known to him any difference of views on this matter.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said the vice president regarded the decision on this issue as the President's.

Although Eisenhower said he had no objection to Nixon's holding press conferences and speaking as freely as he pleased, Klein said the vice president has no plans for such conferences.

Similarly, Kennedy has left to Johnson not only the strategy but much of the political infighting in the Senate session.

Texas Priest Indicted For Assault on Coed

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — A Hidalgo County grand jury Wednesday indicted a Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. John B. Feit, 27, on a charge of assault with intent to rape.

Dist. Atty. R. L. Lattimore filed a charge maning Father Feit last week on a complaint signed by Miss Maria America Guerrero, 20, student at Pan American College.

The district attorney said the girl told him a man seized her March 23 and she knelt in prayer in Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

More Pennies Are Needed

Leland Howard is a government official and he appeared before a House Appropriations subcommittee asking for pennies. Sixty million of them. Obviously an explanation is in order.

Mr. Howard was not being facetious, it develops. He really needs that many pennies. And this is a modest request, at that. Last year he had to have nearly 2 billion.

Leland Howard is assistant director of the Mint and he is experienced in the demands of the public for legal tender. Americans will accept currency, reluctantly, but it is coins they live on. So says Mr. Howard.

He is probably right. Those who listen carefully can probably hear right now some of the 5.1 million copper cents changing hands—clinking on counters, jingling in pockets or dropping in the street and rolling down the nearest grate—which is one day's turnover in the United States. Add to these the louder and more melodic clunks of bigger coins and it becomes obvious there must be more metallic ore in circulation than remains below ground.

Pennies give the Mint a particularly rough time. It seems many cash transactions occur these days which do not require any particular denomination except pennies. Sales taxes are the hungriest penny gobblers. It is not unusual for a state adopting a multi-penny tax for the first time to find itself suddenly stripped of the coins. This can throw revenue into helpless frustration. It is Mr. Howard's job to see that this doesn't happen.

So, to Congress he went, asking for pennies. Lawmakers seem to welcome his annual visit, perhaps because it offers them an opportunity to utter such profound observations as "this makes a lot of cents," or "we have known for a long time that money was scarce."

Or perhaps it is the break in the usual routine encountered in agency money requests. Who else comes looking for peanuts?

Water Not Too Important

There have been alarming predictions by experts that the United States and other nations might encounter a shortage of water for industrial purposes in a decade. Dr. Gilbert F. White, geographer of the University of Chicago, offers a dissenting opinion.

White contends expansion of industrial water use will be less rapid than predicted. The predictions are almost fantastically varied. One expert projects industrial water usage by 1975 at 90 billion gallons a day; while another says it will be 350 billion gallons daily.

But, says White, industrial processes are being devised to adjust water usage to resources available locally. And usage varies widely by industries. Primary metals, pulp paper, petroleum, coal and chemicals account for 80 per cent of industrial water consumption in the United States.

Water supply, says White, is important in market economies. But "it is not necessarily, or even often, a decisive factor in industrial location." This is encouraging for inland communities with industrial growth ambitions.

How To Irk Grocery Clerks

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks that a supermarket clerk gets tired of hearing:

"Do you have a health food department for dogs? The doctor has put our pooch on a salt-free diet."

"Hey, Jack, I wheeled all the way to the beer cooler and back in 47 seconds and from a standing start. Is that a track record?"

"The boss and his wife were supposed to come for dinner last night but they didn't show. Can you take back this 12-pound rib roast? We don't eat meat that expensive ourselves."

"Why is it your hamburger always looks red on top but not at the bottom?"

"You seem to stock everything except B-grade movies. When are you going to put them in?"

"I want that woman arrested. Just because I beat her to the last jar of pickled relish, she deliberately ran me down with her shopping cart."

"Hey, Jack I just saw a bad head on crash over by the stack of canned peaches. Better call an ambulance."

"Twenty-three dollars and 46 cents? Your machine must be broke. I figured it in my head at $23.44. You better add 'em up again."

"Yeah get the buns and baked beans here, Mabel, and we'll get the frankfurters at that new supermarket 10 miles down the road. They're a penny a pound cheaper there."

"We just got back from our honeymoon, and my husband says he wants a nice home-cooked meal. Can you lend me an ice pick and a can opener?"

"I don't know when junior climbed into your frozen food compartment, but his teeth are chattering and he looks kinda blue. Don't you have any place where I can thaw him out in a hurry?"

"I own the drugstore up the block. Now that you people are selling aspirin, I don't suppose you'd mind if I put in a grocery counter."

"This watch I got for the green stamps don't work anymore. Can you fix it while I wait?"

"I was just standing by that big stack of canned grapefruit when this woman comes along and, naturally, being a woman, she has to pull out the bottom can. No, I don't want a bandage—I want a lawyer."

"Yeah, here's my wife's grocery list. She wants a dozen eggs, a magazine, a pound of cheese, a package of hairpins, a container of milk, some mouthwash and half a dozen men's undershirts medium size."

"Gee, I only got $10 with me. Maybe if I put back the corn and the detergent and take a smaller sack of potatoes—or do you think it would work out better if I forgot the lettuce and swapped the watermelon for half a dozen oranges?"

"Your bags are getting stronger. I got all the way to the corner last night before it broke."

Are Conventions Obsolete?

Someone ought to explain to the British people why we have military bases in Great Britain. They are not there because the American people desire to pay the cost of such an enterprise. The are there to protect Great Britain, as we have done in two wars at great cost of blood and wealth.

It is particularly true of the British Labour Party that they make a habit of twisting the neck of the British lion. For instance, Philip Noel-Baker, a Labourite, asked in Parliament:

"Since it is universally admitted that reconnaissance flights by spy aircraft are illegal under international law is it not desirable that the House (of Commons) should know whether the Prime Minister is consulted before such flights are made, and if he has given his approval?"

Mr. Longden, a Conservative, replied:

"...As the employer of more spies than anyone else in the world Khrushchev should put his own glasshouse in order before threatening to send us a rocket."

Hugh Gaitskell, leader of the British Labour Party who may one day be Prime Minister of Great Britain raised this point:

"Is it not clear that the circumstances in which the original agreement were made differ considerably from those that obtain now? The original agreement spoke of the use of bases in emergency, whereas it is clear from the answers today that they are being continuously used for various expeditions of one kind or another. Is it not clear we must have a new agreement on these bases?"

The Western world, including Great Britain, has faced a continuous emergency since 1945. It has been part of the Cold War, originated by Soviet Russia and designed to keep the West engaged in numerous difficulties, surprises, shocks constantly and unendingly. If Gaitskell does not know the nature of the Cold War, its concept in Communist ideology, he is not a safe leader of an ally.

The presence of bases in Great Britain is a result of consultations between President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee of Great Britain. Both had met with Stalin at the Potsdam Conference. Both understood the nature of Soviet perfidy. Both believed that their countries had won World War II and that Europe would know a greater democracy. Both discovered that they were mistaken.

President Truman made no secret of his disappointment; Prime Minister Attlee was undoubtedly embarrassed because as a Socialist, he did not expect what he found. The Truman-Attlee agreement concerning bases was the result. The United States agreed to stand guard over Great Britain in the interest of Great Britain. Enter Emanuel Shinwell, the Labourite, to say:

"Will the Prime Minister tell us what are the terms of the Attlee-Truman agreement. Would it not help to clarify this if we knew the terms? Was there any written agreement? As a member of the Cabinet and Minister of Defence, I am not aware that there was a written agreement."

To this Prime Minister Macmillan replied:

"I do not think I said there was a written agreement. An understanding was reached between the United Kingdom and the United States Governments in October, 1951, during Mr. Attlee's premiership, under which the use in emergency of bases in this country by United States forces was accepted to be a matter of joint decision in the light of the circumstances prevailing at the time. This understanding depended on no formal document. It was accepted as a mutually satisfactory arrangement, which was subsequently confirmed."

Finally, Harold Davies, another Labourite, said:

"None of us wants to play either the Russian game or the American game. We want to play the game with the British people whose lives are at stake."

"The position today is not the same as it was when that understanding was made. The word 'emergency' had been inserted by the Prime Minister and his friends to cover up a situation which neither he nor any member in any part of the House can justify at this serious moment."

This debate in Parliament, from which I have quoted a few excerpts, is particularly significant at this time when we are reviewing our foreign policy. Does the Labour Party in Great Britain favor the Anglo-American Alliance or do they wish Great Britain to become a neutral? We ought to know.

Can't Predict Pollen Count

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. C.

We can predict the weather with a pretty good degree of accuracy. But we can't predict the pollen count.

And for several million persons suffering from hay fever or asthma, the pollen count is probably a lot more important than the temperature these days.

The pollen count which is printed in newspapers every day during the pollen season is not the accurate guide we would like to have.

The count for ragweed is made with the aid of a vase-line-coated glass slide which is placed in an unprotected area. These slides are collected at a specific time each day and a microscopic examination determines the number of ragweed pollen grains present.

This count is probably fairly accurate, but it tells only what occurred yesterday, not what will occur today or tomorrow.

It does, however, indicate what might occur today or tomorrow. For example, a pollen count of, say, between 25 and 30 grains can mean considerable trouble for asthma and hay fever victims.

In my home state of Illinois, a couple of years ago the count rose to a record 1,500 in one area.

Now when the count is high one day, it does indicate that it will probably be high enough to cause difficulty the following day.

However, various elements such as rain and wind direction and velocity enter into the picture.

A westerly wind, for example, may have an entirely different effect from an easterly wind upon the pollen count in a specific area.

In other words, today's breezes may not mean sneezes, especially in communities adjoining large bodies of water. The wind coming in from over the water will probably not be as laden with pollen as is wind blowing in from across the prairies.

So it's generally a good idea to keep an eye on the weather forecast as well as on the pollen count. That way you can try to reconcile the two.

There's one forecast, however, that I can make with a pretty good degree of accuracy: the hay fever season will last until the first killing frost.

Question and Answer

Mrs. F. M.: What would you suggest for a person who constantly seeks a doctor's advice for aches and pains and as always told there is no existing ailment?

Answer! This patient may have an emotional problem and should seek psychiatric consultation.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democrats have scaled their worst hurdle to party unity and now should be able—thanks to their overwhelming numbers in both houses—to steamroller the Republicans for the rest of this abbreviated session of Congress.

As the drama unfolds in these blazing August days on Capitol Hill—with the presidential campaign due to start in early September—here are some very important figures to keep in mind:

In the Senate the Democrats outnumber the Republicans 66-34 and in the House, where there are five vacancies 280-152. Tuesday the Democrats showed what they could do to the Republicans when they chose to stick together.

They closed ranks with a bang—Northern Democrats and Southern Democrats together—to block a Republican attempt to force action on some civil rights bills.

Although earlier this year the Democratic-run Congress passed the second civil rights bill in the 20th century—the first was passed in 1957—President Eisenhower called for some civil rights legislation.

If the Democrats had permitted a Senate wrangle over civil rights that would have ended any hope for real accomplishment in this Congress before it adjourns.

Eisenhower breakfasted with his Republican leaders in Congress and one of them—Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois—promptly returned to the Senate and offered a two-point civil rights measure.

Democrats from North and South—with four exceptions—joined to smash the Republican proposal. This would indicate they're prepared to do the same to any further attempt in this field.

To Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, and his vice-presidential running mate, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Northern Negro vote next November will be important. So will the white Southern vote.

But both took a stand against the Republican move on civil rights. The Republican civil rights action was an attempt to get the Senate so snarled up in a Southern Democratic filibuster against any new civil rights measures that it couldn't act on four measures which Kennedy considers of primary importance.

There are federal aid to education, housing, medical care for aged, and raising of the minimum wage.

The Democrats, because of their terrific majorities in both houses, have the numbers to pass the four measures mentioned by Kennedy since in both houses only a majority vote is necessary to pass a bill.

They face the possibility of one hitch—a veto by Eisenhower. Congress can repass a measure over a presidential veto only by a two-thirds vote in both houses and in both houses the Democrats lack a full two-thirds of the membership.

In this highly steamed-up election Eisenhower and his advisers will have to think twice before vetoing a measure which has broad popular appeal, such as the four measures listed by Kennedy.

There is an opposite side to this coin, very gruesome for the Democrats to contemplate.

If, with their huge majorities, they do not pass the kind of legislation urged by Kennedy the Republicans can ask the voters: why give control of Congress to the Democrats again in November if when they outnumber us so one-sidedly as they do now they still can't agree long enough among themselves to do something?

Hotel Business Is Joining in Building Boom

Splurge by Motels Part of Reason for Spirited Expansion

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The hotel business is joining the construction boom in New York City which as yet shows no sign of saturation. And across the country other cities have seen new hotels rising.

The American Hotel Assn. predicts that existing hotels will spend more this year than their 265-million-dollar outlay in 1959 just for modernization projects. Hotels are facing increased competition from the big splurge of motel building in the nation, and more recently from the inroads of motor hotels in downtown areas.

New York's spectacular boom in office building is one reason given why new hotels are planned to increase the available room supply for visiting businessmen.

As more corporations set up headquarters or branch offices on Manhattan Island, more executives from other parts of the nation are called in for consultation. And as big corporations with headquarters here have spread their plants around the country since the war, more management men are drawn to New York for reporting and planning sessions.

The growth of business conventions is another reason, and also the steady increase in the number of tourists inspecting the big town.

Loew's Theaters Inc., which is excavating for a 21-story hotel on the East Side of Manhattan, announces plans for a 50-story hotel on the West Side, to be the world's tallest. The two will be the city's first major hotels built since the 47-story Waldorf-Astoria, now the tallest, opened in 1931.

Plans for another huge hotel were recently junked by William Zeckendorf because of financing problems.

New York's hotel industry has played to full houses in most of the postwar years with some slight dips in occupancy during business recessions, but with no-vacancy signs frequent during business conventions and in those days when New York was host to the World Series.

Since 1947, Manhattan has seen 125 major office buildings added to the skyline. With those now under construction or with plans on file at the Department of Buildings, the total will be 147 with 51,307,000 square feet of rentable space.

Dayton Team OK After Chilly Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—A team from the Air Development Division, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, who dropped 10,000 feet into the cold North Atlantic said they weren't particularly uncomfortable.

The team—Chief Warrant Officer Edward Murray and Edward Rice, Capt. John Matsuo and army Capt. Jack Angel—were dropped off the Massachusetts coast Tuesday to test pressure suits developed by the Air Force and Navy to save airmen's lives in emergency. The suits inflate and protect the wearer against sudden loss of pressure if something goes wrong in a high-flying pressurized plane. They have insulating qualities also against superchilled air or water.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It will be steak and roast beef on most weekend dinner tables, judging from the specials featured by supermarkets and neighborhood stores.

Beef supplies are plentiful and are expected to reach an all-time high for the year.

Outdoor cooks will find much to choose from. Topping the bargain list are sirloin, round, rib and cube steaks along with the always popular ground chuck.

Roasts include chuck, rump and round.

In various sections of the country, meat counter features include smoked hams, leg of lamb and frying chicken.

Meat prices generally are down. Scallops top the fish specials. They are in unusually heavy supply.

Lesser supplies are expected to result in higher prices for canned and frozen vegetables.

Best buys among vegetables are green peppers, potatoes, eggplant, corn, radishes, green onions, cabbage, tomatoes, pascal celery, endive, escarole and beets.

Rated good buys are cucumbers, yellow and green squash, spinach, western onions, cauliflower, broccoli, western iceberg lettuce and carrots.

The Department of Agriculture calls watermelons and New Jersey and Pennsylvania peaches "tremendous buys."

Limes, blueberries and seedless grapes are in the best buy category. Other good buys include western peaches, mangoes, navy beans, plums and cantaloupes, marsh seedless grapefruit, avocados and red malaga and cardinal grapes.

Monrovia Garden Club Plans Display for Fair

Monrovia Garden Club held its meeting Monday in the home of Mrs. Ray Hardin Jr., Monroe. The meeting was opened with the members responding to roll call by naming a road side flower.

The devotionals were led by Mrs. Shirley Anderson, president. A tribute was given to the deceased member Mrs. C. D. Hosler.

Mrs. Raymond Grubill read the 23 Psalm and Mrs. Herman Porter gave a reading "The Master Garden" followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Herman Porter gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Raymond Grubill the treasurer's report. A note of appreciation was read from the Hosler family.

The president announced that the club placed second with the arrangement at the County Fair. She also announced that the State Convention will be held September 7 and 8 in Columbus. Mrs. Herman Porter was named delegate and Mrs. Harry Smith alternate.

Plans were completed for the club garden to be on display at the Ohio State Fair.

The club members plan to tour Mrs. Pauline Shiff's garden on August 10 with a luncheon at the noon hour.

Mrs. Bertha Porter, Williamsport, gave a talk on iris, peonies and day-lilies. A question and answer per-

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ann Sothern, hardy television pioneer (she's going into her eighth season), is starting the television year with a new enthusiasm.

"I get a big kick out of doing the commercials," she explained to this disbelieving audience. "I used to feel that I shouldn't get out there and sell—that it wasn't dignified or proper or something. Then last year I got interested in making the commercial seem like part of the show, and in making it amusing."

At season's end, Ann's show had one of TV's highest "sponsor identification" ratings (meaning that a large number of people knew who was paying for the show). This year, however, she has an alternate sponsor.

"And, believe me, I'm downright disappointed, because the sponsor doesn't want me to do the selling. Maybe by mid-season I can soften him up."

Pressed, Ann will confess that she has really been doing the same show through all her TV years. First it was called "Private Secretary" and she was Susie for 105 shows. Then after a rest "I was so sick of TV I thought I'd never go back," she returned with "The Ann Sothern Show" in which she was promoted to assistant manager of a New York hotel and her name was Katie.

Ann in her off-camera life is one of TV's best and smartest business women. In addition to heading her own production company—which makes her boss of her show—she raises uddle in Idaho for the market.

Carl Reiner, after a successful season behind him as a writer and sometimes performer on the Dinah Shore Show, has severed the ties. He has written most of the forthcoming Debbie Reynolds special on ABC and is considering a number of writing-acting offers.

New Drag-Racer Trial Is Opposed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court was asked today to block a new trial for a Canton youth convicted of second-degree murder in the drag-race killing of three motorists.

An appellate court ordered a new trial for Ellis Patterson Jr., on grounds that his jury was not instructed that first and second-degree manslaughter verdicts could have been returned.

The state appealed from that decision to the high court.

Stark County Common Pleas Court sentenced Patterson to Ohio Penitentiary after his conviction in the deaths of Rocco, Nancy and Ricky Serena. Patterson's car and that racing opponent, James Bradley Jr., plowed into the rear of the Serena car on Eighth Street NE in Canton last Sept. 12.

Patterson and Bradley were indicted jointly, but Patterson obtained a separate trial.

SOVIET COURT READY—American pilot Francis G. Powers, 30, goes on trial in the Soviet on Aug. 17 in what promises to be one of the most diplomat-watched proceedings in recent history. A spy trial, Moscow calls it, pointing out that Powers was downed while flying over Soviet territory from Pakistan. Downed by rocket, say Reds. Couldn't be, says U.S.

Farm Problem Not Understood

Economist Asks Plan
For More Education

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio State University farm economist believes America's answer to its farm problem is "a bold program of education to gain widespread understanding of the agricultural and rural situation."

Dr. Mervin G. Smith, head of OSU's Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology, expressed this view recently in an address to a group of farmers, educators and extension department personnel at a farm management field day at Old Fort in Seneca County.

"Too many people think there is no farm problem," Dr. Smith said. "Many persons do not believe farmers' income (as a group) are low." He noted that net farm income in the United States in the last five years has averaged between $2,300 and $3,000 per farm.

This, he said, compares with the average annual wage per employed factory worker of about $4,600 a year.

He reviewed the various programs offered as solutions to the farm problem, and said "none of these will likely do the job alone." He added:

"In developing a farm policy, it is likely that we will need a combination of programs in which emphasis is given to: (1) reducing land; (2) assisting farm labor to transfer to other endeavors; (3) expanding the demand for farm products at home and abroad; (4) making use of emergency price supports; (5) adopting a strong educational and research program to help farmers who remain in farming adjust and improve their individual success in farming; and (6) stimulating public affairs work to accomplish community adjustments and development."

He warned that unless this country moves ahead with sound agricultural policies, the democracies of the world may lose their leadership in agriculture.

Big Mosquitoes

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—"We have never seen so many mosquitoes and woodchucks," an upstate observer for the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service wrote. "One mosquito had three woodchucks on it."

Dissident Dixiecrats Woored By Both Kennedy, Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas are trying to woo dissident Southern Democrats into supporting their ticket and avoid Republican inroads into the South.

Kennedy, as his party's presidential nominee, is working with local representatives in an effort to offset Dixie dissatisfaction with the Democratic platform's strong civil rights and labor planks.

The Massachusetts senator conferred Tuesday with William Battle, his Virginia campaign manager. He hopes to have a talk soon with Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), who didn't work for the Democratic ticket when President Eisenhower carried Virginia in the last two presidential elections.

Byrd isn't saying what he will do this year. He is reported disturbed at promises made to labor in the platform.

Johnson, as the vice-presidential nominee, is working primarily on senators in an effort to win them to the cause of a national ticket. Moves under way in a half-dozen Southern states could omit the ticket from the ballot or free electors to vote as they choose.

Johnson has convinced some Southerners that they ought to support his ticket. Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) has agreed to go along. Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) said he also will vote for Kennedy and Johnson, but that his party's state committee will decide what the organization will do.

Georgia's senators are expected to follow what the people say in a Sept. 14 primary about whether they want their electors to back Kennedy or be free to support another.

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC), a presidential candidate on the 1948 States Rights ticket, said he probably will wait until the South Carolina Democratic convention, Aug. 15, before making up his mind about supporting the national ticket.

Behind the intensive effort now being put on by the Democrats is the knowledge that Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, plans to campaign in every Southern state.

Carson New Patrolman in This Area

Ralph C. Carson, 26, is the new State Highway Patrolman assigned to duty in Circleville and Pickaway County.

Carson hails from Bergholz in Jefferson County. He is a recent graduate of the State Highway Patrol Academy at the Hartman Farm.

The new trooper is married and has a 2-year-old son. He said he and his family probably will move to Circleville in the near future.

Carson is a veteran with two years army service. He fills a vacancy created by the transfer of Patrolman James Cooper to the Jackson Post.

Crash Program For Nike Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Assn. of the U. S. Army urge today that production of the Nike-Zeus antimissile missile system "be placed on a national crash basis."

A resolution adopted at the annual AUSA convention says that the start of production on the only missile defense system under development "has continually been delayed pending proof of the design and development effort."

The resolution did not mention details, but it obviously was directed at the refusal of the Defense Department to permit the Army to begin production of essential components before all testing has been completed. Under the present schedule, final full-scale testing of the Zeus against Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles is not expected before late 1961 or 1962.

Nation's Idle Total Shrinks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment dropped by 406,000 in July, while the number of people holding jobs increased by 110,000, the Labor Department reported.

The number of unemployed dropped from 4,423,000 to 4,017,000 while the number holding jobs increased from 68,379,000 to 68,689,000.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell described the changes as mainly seasonal.

He noted as exceptions a better-than-seasonal pickup in construction job cutbacks in the steel industry.

The reduction in unemployment was about usual for this time of year, and the seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment of 5.4 per cent compared with 5.5 per cent in June.

Unemployment among teenagers dropped sharply—by about 550,000—but unemployment among adults rose by nearly 150,000 as a result of cuts in jobs in durable goods industries, mainly in autos and steel.

Seymour L. Wolfbein, the Labor Department's top manpower expert attributed the decline in employment in the auto industry to model changeovers.

The number of unemployed workers covered by insurance rose more than seasonally to 1,700,000, an increase of nearly 150,000.

No Trace Found of Missing Baby

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Detectives have talked with scores of friends, relatives and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Starcher without finding a clue to the disappearance of their 1-year-old daughter Joanne.

The parents reported to police that the child's bed was empty when they investigated a noise outside their apartment in East Akron, an industrial section, Tuesday night.

Detective Capt. Carroll Cutright said a woman who formerly lived with the Starcher family was questioned, but could offer no clues. A teen-age boy who was in Newcomerstown Tuesday night also was questioned.

The detective said that although he assumes the case is kidnapping, he is puzzled by an apparent lack of motive. Ransom seems an unlikely motive, he said, because the family has little money.

The apartment's front door has no lock and the back door has a broken pane so that access would have been easy. Starcher is an auto plant worker.

Slave's Child Builds Salary Into Fortune

CLEVELAND (AP) — A document in probate court shows how a Negro social worker, whose father was born a slave, pyramided a small salary into a fortune.

Miss Jane E. Hunter, now 77, was the daughter of a South Carolina sharecropper. Her autobiography, published in 1940, was titled "A Nickel and A Prayer," and that was almost literally what she had when she came to Cleveland. She had $1.75, but it soon dwindled to 25 cents.

Her first job was as a nurse. In 1912 she founded, and for 37 years directed, the Phyllis Wehately Association. Named for a Negro poetess, its purpose is to raise the standards of life and skill for Negro women. Her salary at the start was $3,000 a year, but in 1948 the last full year before her retirement, it had risen to $4,600. Now her holdings are valued at $409,711.

Recently she had refused to obtain medical attention, so last month she was judged mentally incompetent. She has six relatives here, but her attorney, Charles M. Hadley, was appointed her guardian, and she was placed in a hospital.

The attorney has filed an inventory in Probate Court listing her possessions. The total includes securities worth $292,671, mainly in bank stocks, and real estate valued at $68,110.

Galion Firm Sued By New Englanders

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Sanders Associates of Nashua has filed a $550,000 suit against an Ohio firm which manufactures road building machinery.

The suit was filed Tuesday in U. S. District Court here. No date was set for a trial.

The Nashua firm contends Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Co. of Galion, Ohio, failed to keep the terms of a 1957 agreement.

Sanders said the Ohio firm asked it to develop and manufacture a device to control automatically the slope of blades in road graders, and then did not abide by the agreement.

McElroy To Head Ohio March of Dimes Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mark McElroy, attorney general of Ohio, has been named state chairman for the new March of Dimes.

The appointment was announced by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation. McElroy will assume the post in January. He succeeds former Cleveland pitcher, Bob Feller of Gate Mills, state chairman for the past five years.

Top Cleveland Yegg Found Shot to Death

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A man identified as Vincent Innocenzi, described by Cleveland police as that city's top safecracker, was found shot to death Wednesday afternoon on a little-used road near Ohio 303 about 12 miles north of here.

He had been shot in the back of the head, the bullet coming out through the left shoulder, authorities said.

Innocenzi, 39, was free on bond from Fairmont, W. Va., where he had been charged in connection with a recent burglary of a supermarket.

Deputy Sheriff George Vaughn said Innocenzi apparently was killed elsewhere and the body "obviously dumped" about 300 feet from the road in the Akron metropolitan park system.

The body, the head partly decomposed, was found by John M. Hall, 62, of Hudson Twp., while he was mowing grass on the park road.

Authorities said a label bearing Innocenzi's name was in the sport jacket the dead man was wearing. They added that tattoos and other marks on the body matched marks Innocenzi was known to have on his body.

There were five $20 bills in the hip pocket of the trousers on the body.

Georgians To Decide On Democrat Backing

ATLANTA (AP)—It is now up to the people of Georgia to decide whether they want their 12 electors to back the Democratic party nominees or go to the Electoral College unpledged.

The State Democratic Executive Committee approved inclusion of the straw ballot on the Sept. 14 primary by a 71-1 vote Tuesday.

Under the state's 1958 unpledged elector law the electors will not be bound legally to follow a mandate of the people if the primary vote favors pledged electors.

Ohio Patrol Training Due Despite Costs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Training is going to be expensive, but it appears Ohio is going to strengthen its State Highway Patrol.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has received some estimates on costs, he said, but in spite of them he appears to believe it is desirable to beef up the patrol. He commented:

"I think this is the most effective tool we have for safety on the highway. Nobody ever passes a Highway Patrol car, no matter what its speed—even if it's going only 35 miles an hour."

Highway Safety Director J. Grant Keys estimates it would cost about $7,720 each for the first year if patrol strength were increased by 50 men. The cost per trainee would drop about $1,500 the second year.

The cost would be lower per year if 100 new men were trained, he estimated. He sets the figures at $7,470 per trainee the first year and $6,194 per man the second year.

The patrol now is at its full authorized strength of 750 men. Keys would like to have another 250.

125,452 Ohioans Listed As Getting Idle Pay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A total of 125,452 persons — more people than there are in Springfield and Mansfield combined — were claiming unemployment benefits in Ohio last week.

Of those 125,452 claimants, 19,607 are newly unemployed, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said Wednesday. The other 105,845 have been unemployed a week or more.

The total is more than twice the average for August 1959.

Ohio's Busiest Law Expert Isn't Available Privately

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's biggest law office is run by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

But you as a private citizen, can't hire him to handle your lawsuit.

He was elected to serve as lawyer for every official, department, board and commission of the state and to be legal adviser for Ohio's 88 county prosecutors.

To handle the work touching every state activity, McElroy has a staff of 223 employees. Nearly half of them are lawyers, called assistant attorneys general.

They are political appointees of McElroy, a Democrat. Barely a half-dozen are holdovers from the previous Republican administration. Most of the other employees are under civil service.

Salaries set by the Legislature start at $5,000 a year for assistants and range above the $15,000 annual pay for McElroy.

John O'Brien, McElroy's chief counsel, draws $16,500. The attorney general's first assistant, J. Harold Read of Cleveland receives $13,800. His pay ultimately will go to $15,120 under the state's setup-increases.

Most assistant attorneys general have practiced law but some are fresh out of law school. A few served as legal aides before passing bar examinations to become lawyers and qualify as assistants.

In addition to public service, legal circles generally regard the attorney general's office as a training ground. Members of the profession jokingly say it's hard to find a lawyer in Columbus who hasn't done a stint there.

"I've noticed the job appeals to younger men now more than formerly," a veteran civil service employee observed. "Within the last 10 years, we seem to be getting a crop of bright young men. But we don't have career people as such."

The legal experience is varied. It ranges from constitutional questions over axle-mile truck taxes to collection of some 40 different types of claims due the state. The claims include sales and highway use taxes and back payments for care of mental hospital patients.

Assistants may handle litigation on liquor license revocations or engage in trial work on land acquisition for highways. Work with special grand juries, such as the current Stark County gambling inquiry, is undertaken only at the request of the governor, McElroy pointed out.

Assistants also counsel and defend the six state universities, state schools for the deaf and blind, habeas corpus and extradition proceedings, supervise charitable trusts and actions to revoke licenses under the automobile driver "point" system.

A total of 18 assistants handle such cases throughout the state. Two are stationed in Cuyahoga County but some have 10 counties under their jurisdiction. They receive $2,640 a year on a part-time basis.

The Legislature has designated other areas of operation for attorney general. He is a voting member of various state boards although a representative usually attends meetings. They include the emergency and controlling boards, which pass on expenditures of state funds and the sinking fund commission, which administers state debt and bond operations.

The attorney general also is a member of the sundry claims board that handles claims against the state. Because the state cannot be sued, the only way a person may recover for injury or damage by the state is through a "sundry claim."

McElroy is a member of the three state retirement systems for teachers and school and state employees, and the board of deposit or state funds.

In all, the attorney general represents 19 state departments and 61 boards, bureaus and commissions.

Fifteen assistants devote most of their time to interpretations of state statutes. Their job is to unravel knotty legal questions raised by department heads and county prosecutors. The resulting opinions have the force of law pending court interpretations.

The 15 assistants meet with O'Brien two or three times a week to hash over the questions in what is called an "office court."

McElroy's office also is concerned with new legislation designed to protect the public. His staff currently is preparing 30 separate proposals for action by the next legislature to prevent consumer frauds. The bills would give the attorney general the means of combating so-called business bandits who bilk Ohioans out of an estimated 300 million dollars annually.

"It's a fact," McElroy says, "that huge fortunes are being amassed by perpetrators of various frauds through false and misleading advertising."

Other assistants are drafting escheat laws to have property abandoned by owners revert to the state after seven years unless reclaimed by rightful owners.

As an example, McElroy said the proposals would enable the state, through court action, to take over from an employer any wages unpaid to workers who neglected to collect them. Employees always could recover their money from the state under the proposal, McElroy pointed out.

"The powers of this office make it a kind of check and balance in addition to the purely legislative, executive and judicial branches of government," McElroy explained. "This gives the office a highly responsible place in our statewide community. We have a direct responsibility to the people."

McElroy, 54, is nearing the midpoint of his four-year term. Born in Cleveland, he attended Kenyon College at Gambier and Western Reserve University law school. He became an attorney in 1934.

In addition to serving as Cleveland city councilman, McElroy has served in both houses of the Legislature. He was a representative in 1949-50 and a senator in 1951-52. Before election as attorney general in 1958, he made an unsuccessful bid to become mayor of Cleveland.

Baby Giraffe Spurned By Mother, Dies in Zoo

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Buster Brown, a baby giraffe, is dead despite attendants' hand-feeding efforts at the Columbus Zoo. Buster had been spurned by his mother, Roberta, since his birth. She tried to trample him and refused to nurse him. Veterinarians said they do not know what caused Buster's death, but they were conducting an autopsy.

Ohio's 37th Division Slated To Leave for Summer Camp

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The mass troop evacuation from Ohio to Michigan this weekend will be only a temporary one—it's the Buckeye State's 37th Infantry Division leaving for its annual two-week summer camp.

The main body of the division leaves Friday for Camp Grayling, Mich. The National Guard division will spend that night at three northern Ohio county fairsgrounds and then proceed to the north-central Michigan camp on Saturday. Grayling is 250 miles north of Toledo.

The move will be the biggest peace-time motor march in the 43-year history of the 37th. And the stay at Grayling will be the division's first at that camp.

Heretofore some of the division's 8,000-plus men have traveled to their two-week brush-up on Army life on trains. This year, however, the entire division will make the trip in motor convoys.

For the past five years the unit has gone to Camp Breckinridge, Ky., for its annual training period. The change this year to the Michigan camp was made because it offers much better facilities for infantry training, Maj. Gen. Loren G. Windom, commanding general of the division, reports.

To keep inconvenience to civilian motorists at a minimum, the big move will be broken into 20 separate sections and these subdivided into groups of about 20 vehicles. The move will begin in three areas of Ohio and will use three different routes to Grayling. Western Ohio units will use U. S. 127 spending either Friday or Saturday night, depending on the day they leave their home station, at the Williams County fairsgrounds at Montpelier. On the second day the units will go up Michigan 66 to 72 and then into Grayling.

The bulk of the central Ohio National Guardsmen will leave Friday, traveling through Marysville, Kenton, Findlay and Bowling Green before spending the night at the Lucas County fairsgrounds at Maumee. On Saturday they will go through Ann Arbor, Flint and Saginaw before reaching the camp.

The third body will take the Ohio Turnpike from eastern Ohio and spend the night at the Fulton County fairsgrounds at Ottokee. On the second day this group will go straight north on U. S. 27 to Grayling.

The return trip on Aug. 26 and 27 will be over the same routes.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Scattered thundershowers Wednesday evening gave as much as an inch of rain to downtown Columbus and 1.7 inches in its northwest suburbs. Sedalia, southwest of Washington Court House, had 1.1 inches. Findlay reported about 1 inch of rain, and the remainder of the northern counties received little or no rain.

Skies were mostly cloudy over the state this morning except in the extreme northwest. Fog which reduced visibility to zero at Dayton, was rather general over the central counties. Temperatures were quite cool, Toledo reporting an unseasonable 56, Columbus 60 and Findlay 58.

High pressures will dominate the state through Friday, bringing fair skies and below-normal temperatures.

Sleeping Beauties' Get New Sister

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—This city's "sleeping beauties" have a new baby sister.

Mrs. Vincent N. Fratanio gave birth to a 9-pound 5-ounce girl in St. Ann Hospital Tuesday night, her fifth child.

In recent months, much of the mother's time has been spent at another hospital, Mount Sinai, with her two other daughters, Bernadette, 3, and Venita, 3.

Bernadette became ill last fall, and Venita last month, with a mysterious ailment that has not yet been diagnosed. One moment either of them may be playing and wide awake, and the next moment sound asleep. The periods of sleep vary in length.

Two sons, Joseph, 7, and James, 4, have not been affected.

McDaniel Keeps
St. Louis Hot on Pittsburgh's Heels

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The St. Louis Cardinals are yapping at the heels of the high-flying Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League, and a tall, raw-boned relief pitcher has a lot to do with it.

His name is Lindy McDaniel, and he's rapidly becoming the Joe Page of the circuit. Joe Page was a New York Yankee reliever who made the bull pen practically a parlor a dozen years ago, bringing the erstwhile unsung denizens into the public eye.

McDaniel who came up from Hollis, Okla. wasn't an immediate success and two years ago he was optioned to Omaha in the American Assn. for a spell.

Wednesday he won his 10th game in 13 decisions, pitching the 8th and 9th innings in the Cards' 6-5 victory over the Phillies in 10 innings. He was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the 10th when the Cards scored the winning run.

In other National League games Los Angeles defeated Milwaukee, 3-2; Pittsburgh bat Chicago 3-1 and Cincinnati downed San Francisco 5-3.

Losing pitcher Dick Farrell walked in the winning run as the Cardinals won their 12th game of their last 14. Bill White's three-run home run in the four-blow fourth inning was the big blow.

The Pirates, with Vernon Law pitching a neat four-hitter for his 16th decision, defeated the Cubs, 3-1. It was the seventh straight for Pittsburgh.

Los Angeles moved into a tie for third place with the Braves by its victory over Milwaukee. Ed Mathews hit his 25th home run in the fourth inning and Frank Howard hit on with a man aboard for the Dodgers in the fifth.

Stan Williams got the victory, his 12th, and Lew Burdette was the loser.

Everything was normal with Bobby Shantz at the start of the 1960 major league baseball season. He had a sore arm.

It seems the little man has been starting seasons with a sore arm ever since 1953, the year after he was voted the American League's most valuable player award by winning 24 games for the then Philadelphia Athletics. In 1952 he was different. He finished with a sore arm—a broken arm, in fact.

Unfortunately for rival teams, wee Bobby has the faculty of returning to good health at the most inopportune times for them. This year is no exception.

He gave one of his better exhibitions Wednesday. He came in with two out in th seventh and the bases filled with White Sox. He fanned Joe Ginsberg for the third out, avoided trouble in the eighth, and struck out the side in the ninth as the Yankees took the rubber game of the three-game series, 6-0 to drop Chicago back to third place behind the winning Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles beat Detroit 4-2 Boston defeated Cleveland 6-1 and Kansas City stomped on Washington 13-1 in other American League games.

Pietras Sets
Pace in Ohio
Publinx Test

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Len Pietras, of Toledo, a former pro and an ex-champion, led by two strokes today as the 27th Ohio Public Link Golf Championship breezed into the 36-hole marathon finish.

Pietras, the 1956 winner of the pay-as-you-go title added a 69 Wednesday to his opening 71 for a 140 total over Chippewa Country Club's 6,391-yard par 72 course.

The four-under-par performance gave the 26-year-old former national caddy champion a two stroke lead over 41-year-old Robert Kay, of Toledo, who also had a 69 Wednesday for a 142.

Today's dash to the wire looked like a tight race, with seven players bracketed within five strokes of the lead. Vic Banish, of Warren, a 40-year-old precision grinder who shared the first-round lead at 69, was third with 143.

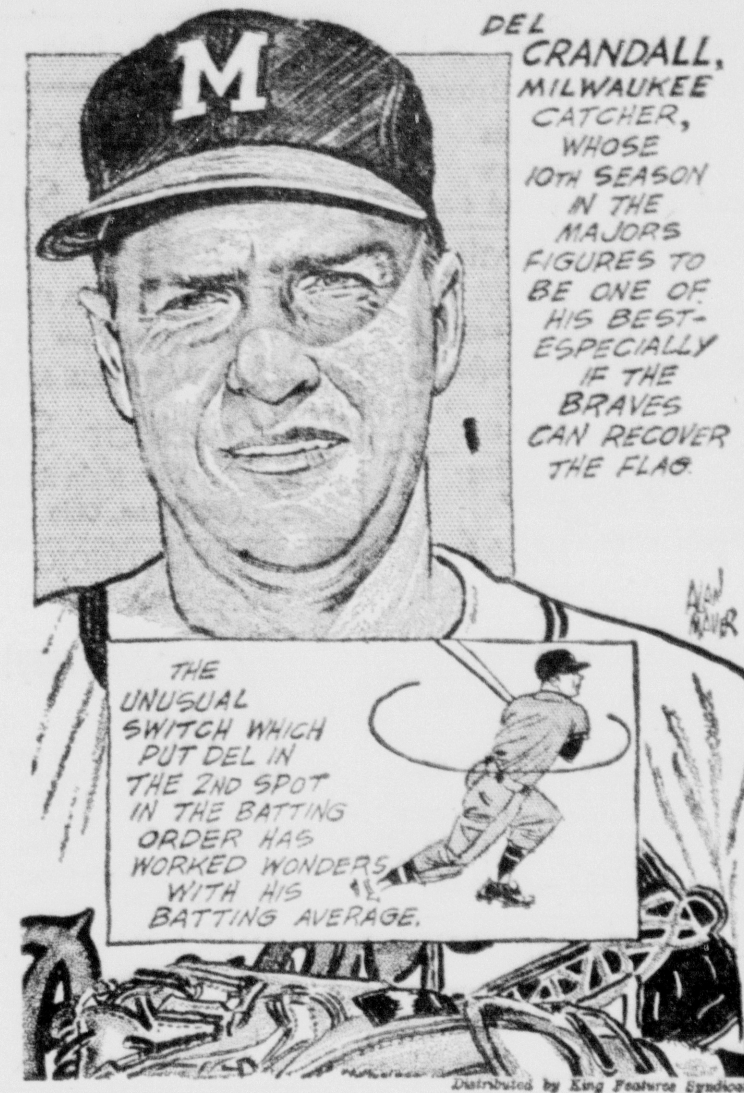

James Valardo, of Cleveland, a 35-year-old tool crib attendant who tied Banish on the opening 18-hole round, was in a three-way dead-lock for fourth with Gene Lake, of Toledo, and Ted Katula, 28-year-old football coach from Youngstown. Each had 144.

Art Todd, of Columbus seeking to retain the title he won last year at Cleveland, was all alone at 145 as 68 survivors of the statng feld of 265 went into today's play. Scores of 154 or better to the fist two rounds were necessary to get into the final round.

Rogelio Alvarez, rookie first baseman with the Cincinnati Reds, once hit a 532 - foot home run in Gran Stadium, Havana.

Eight of the 17 members of the 1960 Michigan State wrestling team come from the area around Lansing.

Public Water Management
Program Said Present Need

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Water Commission needs some help—and from John Q. Public.

Increased participation by citizens and their local governments in coordinated programs of water resource management is a pressing need, the commission says.

That appeal for help was one of the recommendations growing out of a four-month study by its water legislation advisory council.

The commission recommended drafting appropriate legislation which would permit creation of river basin and watershed district authorities under the Ohio Conservancy Act, if possible. This would

Ankrom Hurls
Jaycees to
23-0 Victory

Jaycees continued their domination of Little League play with a 23-0 verdict over Circleville Oil in the only baseball test held here yesterday.

Ty Ankrom's blazing two-hitter gave the Jaycees all the power they needed to remain the league's only undefeated team.

Ankrom's tight hurling was backed up by 18 hits, many of them for extra bases.

Circleville Oil got both hits in the fifth inning when Boltenhouse led off with a single. Zimmerman cracked another one-bagger a minute later.

THE mighty Jaycees nine started fast with eight runs on four hits in the first inning. They followed with four more runs on five bingles in the second.

Six more tallies came home for the winners in the third on four hits. The barrage continued in the fourth and fifth with five markers on five safeties.

Jaycee hitting stars were numerous as Fletcher poked two triples and Weethee, Tootle, Melson and Warner had on each. Doubles were turned in by Plum, Ankrom, Wright and Melson.

Second National Bank's test with Lincoln Plastics was rained out as was the Kiwanis-GE Babe Ruth contest. An attempt will be made to play the Plastics-Bank game today and the Kiwanis-GE tilt at 5:15 p. m. Friday.

Providing the diamonds are in playing condition, Blue Ribbon Dairy meets Third National Bank today on the Little League diamond and Derby takes on DuPont on the softball diamond. Both games are at 5:15 p. m.

Kiwanis is scheduled for a make-up game at Ashville Saturday.

Olympic Cagers
Set for Worst

'Backward' Fouls
Called in Practice

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., (AP)—U. S. Coach Pete Newell is preparing his team for the worst in basketball officiating at the Olympic Games later this month in Rome.

"It's not that there won't be good officials there," Newell said. "It's just that they will be from different countries and in some cases won't speak the English language."

Newell said he even has been calling fouls "backwards" in practice sessions at West Point, N. Y.

"We want our players to get used to any kind of call so it won't upset their game," Newell said.

"After all, there's no use arguing with the referees. Some of them won't be able to understand you anyway, and others won't even understand one another."

Newell said his Olympic team still is not in playing condition. He doubts they will be before the invasion of Rome for the games starting Aug. 25.

Newell was handed what has been regarded as an enviable assignment.

Among the super-stars on the team are All-Americans Jerry West of West Virginia, Darrall Imhoff of his own California team, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State's national champions.

But this assignment isn't as easy as it looks, Newell said. "Everyone of these players were stars in their college day. Basketball is a game of habit. All are used to taking charge and handling the ball most of the time. It's hard to get this group to learn to play as a team. It takes time and we don't have much of that."

Hawkins Stars
For Toronto

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
As if they needed it, the Toronto Maple Leafs have come up with another solid pitcher in Wynn Hawkins.

Hawkins won his fourth game without defeat Wednesday night, beating Miami 5-3 before the Marlins turned on the International League leaders for a 6-3 victory in the nightcap of a doubleheader.

Hawkins, who has completed all four starts, gave Miami only four hits, got a double and triple, drove in one run and scored another. The pitching performance made his earned run average a neat 1.49 as the Leafs continue to dominate.

Hawkins has given only 23 hits in 42 innings since being sent down by the parent Cleveland Indians last month.

Columbus won over Rochester 3-1, Montreal defeated Jersey City 2-0 and Buffalo edged Richmond 1-0 in other IL action.

Bob Sagers' third home run and his sacrifice fly that scored Dick Barone gave Columbus enough to beat Cal Browning, Wally Shannon homered for the Red Wings. Bob Veale (8-6) was the winner, giving only four hits in the 7-1-3 innings he worked. Diomedes Olivo finished up.

Fishermen are getting lots of crappies averaging 7 inches and channel cats from 9 to 13 inches at Grand Lake St. Marys in Auglaize and Mercer counties. Larger crappies in the 10-13-inch class are fewer in the catch this year due to natural die-off of older age classes and the abundance of the new groups.

Lima, Cincinnati Vie
In Key Legion Game

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati Bentley and Lima, the only undefeated teams among seven clubs remaining in the 14-team double-elimination American Legion junior baseball tournament, faced each other at 9 a. m. today in key game.

Four other teams with once-beaten records were paired off and Piqua, which drew a morning-round bye, plays in the afternoon. Akron met defending champion Columbus Scioto at 9 a. m. and Steubenville took on Bridgeport at noon.

Upset Is Goal
Of College Stars

CHICAGO (AP)—Today was the quiet before the football storm in Soldier Field where the College All-Stars meet the heavily favored Baltimore Colts Friday night.

The champion Colts of the National Football League are rated three touchdown favorites over some of the nation's top college seniors in 1959.

All Stars Coach Otto Graham, trying for his second victory in three years at the collegiate helm pronounced his squad in good shape. However, lost earlier because of injuries were such stand-

Tribe Sees
Williams Set
Homer Mark

CLEVELAND (AP)—Shortstop Woodie Held, who suffered a broken finger on his right hand nearly three weeks ago started working out with the Indians again Wednesday night though he must still wear a splint.

"I can throw pretty well," he said, "but I'm not allowed to swing a bat yet. They're afraid I'll jar the finger."

The Indians dropped 8 1/2 games off the pace in the American League pennant race by dropping a 6-1 decision to the Boston Red Sox, who were led to victory by Ted Williams' two homers — good for three runs.

The homers—the 512 and 513th of his major league career—gave the 41-year-old leftfielder sole possession of third place on the list of all-time home run hitters behind Babe Ruth, who hit 714, and Jimmy Foxx, with 534.

No. 512, a shot into the left field stands off loser Barry Latman with the bases bare in the fifth inning, put Williams one ahead of Mel Ott. He had tied Ott with his 511th homer here Tuesday night.

Williams got his 513th—and 21st of the season—in the ninth inning off Johnny Klippstein with pitcher Earl Wilson on base.

The Red Sox and Indians play the rubber game of the series this afternoon with southpaw Jack Harshman (1-2) pitching for the Tribe and Ike Delock (6-4) going for Boston.

Perkins Now Hopes
For Shot at Brown

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Perkins, 23-year-old Chicago product, hopes he is a step closer to a shot at Joe Brown's lightweight title.

Perkins scored an impressive seventh-round technical knockout over Joey Lopes of Sacramento, Calif., Wednesday night to fortify his National Boxing Assn. anking as the No. 4 contender.

Willie Jones
Aids Reds as Pinch-Hitter

CINCINNATI (AP)—Willie Jones, at age 34 and no gazelle in the field, figures he still has a few more seasons in baseball.

And on the basis of this year's showing he could be around a long time as a pinch-hitter.

That was his role in a crucial eighth inning Wednesday night, and he drove in the two runs with a single that gave Cincinnati a 5-3 victory over San Francisco.

Eddie Kasko beat Willie out of the Reds' third base post at start of the season. Now rookie Cliff Cook has the job. But Willie blossomed into the Reds' No. 1 right-handed pinch hitter.

In 25 tries at the role, Willie has had nine hits, including two doubles, that account for 11 runs batted in — a .360 effort.

The night was also a victory for Marshall Bridges, bought from St. Louis last month. He collaborated again as relief man for Bob Purkey—and took the victory this time.

Five days ago at St. Louis, they joined forces to shut out the Cards, 3-0, but Purkey collected that victory after an eight-inning stint.

Purkey doled out five hits and three runs in seven innings before turning the job over to Bridges Wednesday night.

The reliever fanned three men and was tagged for only a harmless single.

The eighth inning Cincinnati up-rising didn't get started until two out. Then Wally Post singled and Gordon Coleman drew a walk.

Johnny Antonelli took over. Giant pitching from Sam Jones, but he was in for a short stay. Frank Robinson pinch doubled, scoring the tying run.

Stu Miller displaced Antonelli, but he walked Cliff Cook, filling the bases.

Then came Jones' timely blow.

Dayton Girl Cops
Softball Crown

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Dayton National Cash Register won the Ohio Girls Double Elimination Softball Tournament Wednesday night by coping a 1-0 pitcher's duel with Columbus Jan Ross.

Dayton's Bobbie Kymer allowed only two hits, and Jan Ross' Ginny Kruse gave up only four. Dayton scored its lone run in the second inning when Marilyn McKenney tripled and scored on an infield out.

Dayton, which sailed through the tourney without a loss, had downed Jan Ross earlier in the tournament 3-1.

NCR will represent Ohio in the regional tournament which begins Friday in the Cash Registers' own home city of Dayton.

120 Acre Pickaway Co. Farm

80 Acre Pickaway Co. Farm

3 Acre Tract

SATURDAY, AUGUST 13, 1960

Beginning at 2:00 p. m.

120 ACRE FARM SELLS AT 2:00 P. M.

Located 14 miles east of Washington C. H., 14 miles west of Circleville, 5 miles east of New Holland, 1 1/2 north of U. S. 22, 1 1/2 mile west of the Locust Grove-Dublin Hill Road, on the Badger Road in Pickaway County, Ohio.

This 120 acre farm is considered one of Pickaway County's better farms, being located in an excellent agricultural area in Perry Township on a good black top road in Pickaway County, Ohio. This particular area is recognized as having some of the best farm land in the state. Has complete set of modern buildings and all tillable.

IMPROVEMENTS: Improved with modern substantial two story frame home in very good condition throughout with four rooms down, including very large modern kitchen and full modern bathroom and two bedrooms up. Has several desirable features including 220 electric service, water under pressure from both cistern and well, forced air furnace, a lovely home setting with beautiful shade trees. Good state of repair throughout, being newly painted and decorated inside and out. Out buildings include practically new concrete block barn, 34x60, with hip roof, and a 24x64 attached feeding shed with all concrete floor, double corn crib and driveway with 2,000 bushel capacity and a separate 1,000 bushel crib, garage, double shed and granary, separate well and water pressure system at the barn, electricity to all buildings, and several new gates. Land is all highly productive black soil in a high state of cultivation and all tillable. Farm lies in a rectangle divided into four nice fields with access to water from each field. Extra good fences, including several rods of new fences. Considered to be one of the best drained farms in the county. The present growing crops prove the high producing ability of this farm. The owner's one-half interest in these crops will go with the farm, and include 40 acres of corn and 20 acres of soybeans. Farm has been well cared for and has been farmed for several years by the present tenant, who is considered one of the best farmers in the community. Located in a very good neighborhood, close to good stores, elevators, markets, churches, schools, etc. Sells on the premises to the highest bidder.

INSPECTION: Permitted any time.

TERMS: $5,000.00 cash at time of sale, balance on delivery of deed, on or before February 1, 1961. Purchaser will receive good title. Owner's one-half of growing crops go with the farm. Full possession on or before March 1, 1961. This farm will qualify for a long term farm loan. For further information, contact the Bumgarner Company.

80 ACRE FARM SELLS AT 3:30 P. M.

Located in the northeast edge of Atlanta, just off State Route 277 on Locust Grove-Dublin Hill Road in Pickaway County, Ohio. This 80 acre farm is exceptionally well located, being all tillable and having some of the best land in Pickaway County.

IMPROVEMENTS: Five room two story house in below average condition. Has an excellent barn with attached cattle feeding shed, 35x52, three corn cribs with 1850 bushel capacity, and very good water supply from two good wells with water pressure system and water under pressure to the barn. The best of drainage and extra good fences, including several rods of new fence. Farm is divided into three 25 acre fields and is in extra high state of cultivation, having produced from 95 to 100 bushels of corn per acre the past few years. The owner's one-half interest in all growing crops goes with the farm, which includes 25 acres of corn. Nice sized one man farm, which is considered one of the best producing small farms in the community. Should be seen to be appreciated. Sells on the premises to the highest bidder.

INSPECTION: Permitted any time.

TERMS: $3,000.00 cash at time of sale, balance on delivery of deed, on or before December 1, 1960. Purchaser will receive a good title, owner's interest in growing crops, immediate possession of the house, and full possession of the farm on or before January 1, 1961.

3 ACRE TRACT SELLS AT 4:00 P. M.

Located in the center of Atlanta, just off State Route 277 across from Hughes' Store. This three acre tract of land is unimproved with the exception of a small storage building which is all finished and has good water supply from extra good well. Would make a beautiful building site, or could be divided into several small lots. Sells on the premises to the highest bidder.

TERMS: $300.00 cash at time of sale, balance on delivery of deed within 30 days with immediate possession.

BARN — INSIDE AND OUT — The top photo shows the exterior of the new horse barn at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffith, Route 4. It is specially designed for the Griffiths' horses and sheep, but has walnut and cherry paneling inside. The barn is red with white trim. Inside, Mrs. Griffith is seen with her palomino mare, and other horse in the stable. Mr. and Mrs. Griffith built a good part of the barn themselves. (Staff Photo)

New Griffith Barn Epitome Of Convenience and Beauty

By MRS. J. E. GROOM
On a picturesque side road, in the rolling wooded area off State Route 188, in Washington Twp., a new barn has been going up during the past year. A barn is a barn, is a barn, with apologies to Gertrude Stein, but this is a very special barn.

The building of it was planned and supervised with loving care by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. John Griffith, Route 4. John owns the Griffith Floor Covering Plant on S. Pickaway St. and Harriet, his wife, runs, may it be said, the home acres and all the animals thereon.

The animals consist of sheep, dogs (including a mastiff the size of a small lion), cats, geese and horses.

The barn was erected to house the horses, primarily. There are three roomy box stalls, a foaling stall and a stallion stall.

What makes the building "something special," is the wood used for these stalls. Solid planks of oak, walnut and cherry, hand sanded and polished by Harriet Griffith, compose the inner run-way.

ON THE outer side, are dutch doors from each stall to a paddock. Here are three double skylights in the barn roof, permitting ample light. The outside is painted a dark red (matching the house) with a white trim.

Opposite the box stalls is a feed and tack room, and an area for the Shropshire sheep which the Griffiths raise (this space could be converted into four more box stalls if the horse population should outnumber the sheep.)

At present the Shrops feed here from troughs which are the epitome of luxury and efficiency. The troughs are lined with corian, covered, and finished with a metal strip for smooth edges, so that there is no lodging, no waste, and no cleaning problem.

Two-inch oak partitions are used between each stall and the stallion stall is built entirely of two-inch oak. Besides sanding and polishing the completed planks, Mrs. Griffith also learned how to bevel the edges and did much of this work herself. She also did most of the outside painting.

The horses on the Griffith farm are used mostly for pleasure. Both Mr. and Mrs. Griffith enjoy riding. They ride cross country, over their own fields, or take to the side roads adjoining their property.

Mrs. Griffith's mount is usually the palomino mare and John takes out on the 3-year-old chestnut gelding.

Harriet, a native of Delaware, says she never saw a lamb outside of the butcher shop, or a horse either, beyond TV westerns. Horses and animals in general are the Griffiths' hobbies.

Medical Mirror

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Sports Glasses

- Bathroom Problem
- Oxygen Pep
- Coronary Insufficiency

Q. I have seen advertisements in sports magazines for yellow-tinted glasses that are supposed to improve the hunter's sight, especially on cloudy or overcast days. Are such glasses helpful?

A. Yes, they do help. Yellow-tinted glasses transmit yellow light rays unchanged, but cut down the short-wave rays of blue and green. When used on cloudy or overcast days, yellow rays seen through the glasses become relatively brighter than the blue or green. As a result, yellowish animals can be seen more distinctly by hunters who wear such glasses.

Q. This is not a very nice subject, but what is the best way to sterilize toilet seats?

A. The most practical way is by use of soap and water and a suitable antiseptic solution.

Q. What is the medical opinion regarding use of oxygen by athletes?

A. There is little or no scientific evidence that use of pure oxygen by athletes is helpful. Most authorities disapprove of this practice because the hoped-for boost in energy tends to make the athlete overexert himself. Athletes performing at high elevations might conceivably get a temporary "lift" from breathing pure oxygen, but even this is debatable.

Q. Please explain coronary insufficiency. Is such a condition dangerous? Can it turn into cancer?

A. The heart muscle is nourished by special blood vessels called coronary arteries. If one of these vessels becomes partially or completely blocked or goes into spasm the amount of blood that can get through the artery is lessened. As a result the coronary artery delivers an insufficient amount of blood to the heart itself. Hence the expression, coronary insufficiency. The degree of danger depends, of course, on the extent to which the coronary blood flow is diminished. There is no relationship between coronary insufficiency (which involves mechanical impediment of blood flow to the heart itself) and cancer (which is a disease process).

Band Practice Starts Monday

The annual pre-football season marching and music rehearsals of the Circleville High School Band are scheduled to begin Monday evening at 6:30 in the high school music room.

The rehearsals will continue each evening from 6:30 to 8:30 until school begins. One hour of the rehearsal will be devoted to marching fundamentals and marching drill; the second hour will be given to rehearsing music.

New music is on hand ready for the band to start playing. With the addition of 27 new members, the high school band should number about 75 this season.

Director Truman Eberly requests that any band student who may have moved into the Circleville School District during the past few months get in touch with him by phone.

Killer of Couple Ordered to Hospital

CINCINNATI (AP)—Emmett Sallee, 68, accused of killing a couple in a crowded cafe with a shotgun, was ordered to Lima State Hospital Wednesday by Judge Frank Gusweiler of Common Pleas Court. Psychiatric reports indicated Sallee was not sane. Police said Sallee told them the reason he shot and killed Charles Oliver, 48, and Oliver's wife, Etta Mae, 50, last Feb. 26 was that he thought they stole money from him two weeks earlier.

Pickaway Grange Report

SCIOTO VALLEY

Scioto Valley Grange held its meeting Tuesday with H. A. Bumgarner, worthy master, presiding at the meeting.

The grange was given third place for its exhibit booth at the county fair commemorating the sesquicentennial of Pickaway County.

The Pomona Grange meeting will be held Friday at the Star Grange, Five Points.

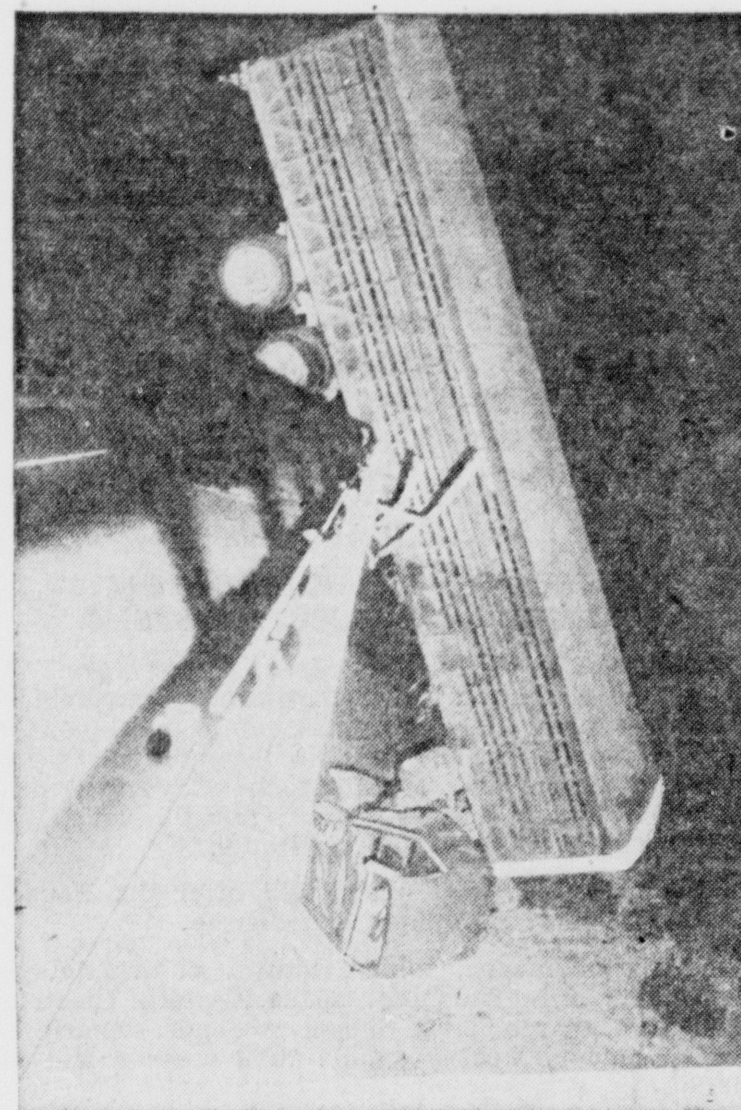

Gladys Vause, worthy lecturer, presented the program: a poem, "Crossroads Store," by Gladys Vause; "Should Boys and Girls Be Encouraged To Stay on The Farm and Why" by H. A. Bumgarner, "Famous People of Story Land," by the children: "Travel, Yesterday," "First Automobile Seen and First Ride" and "How The Story Grew" by the grange members.

The hostesses for the evening were: Helen Doersom and Mary Forshey serving 35 members and children.

The next meeting will be held at 8:30 p. m. August 23, with an inspection.

'DISGUISE' FOR NEW TRIAL?—Los Angeles authorities are pondering the case of Edward Muza, 30, former Kansas City, Mo., dance instructor who, while serving a robbery sentence in San Quentin, had $2,000 worth of plastic surgery done on his face. Then he won a new trial. Now the prosecution claims he had the plastic surgery done to confuse witnesses. He said it was to "give me a personal pride and self-confidence." The surgery removed a lump on his nose and "pinned back" his ears, among other things.
